

Yale MACMILLAN CENTER

South Asian Studies Council

BUILDING SOLIDARITY FOR RACIAL JUSTICE IN TRANSNATIONAL SOUTH ASIA

What are the challenges and opportunities in organizing for racial justice in South Asian diaspora communities in the United States? What lessons can we draw from historical instances of transnational activism? What are the affinities between racial and caste-based discriminations, and relatedly between race and caste as conceptual categories? This panel discussion brings together perspectives from research and community organizing to reflect on these questions.

PANELISTS:

Sharmin Hossain, Political Director, Equality Labs

Sangay Mishra, Assistant Professor of Political Science, Drew University

Samip Mallick, Executive Director, South Asian American Digital Archive

CO-MODERATED BY:

Sasha Sabherwal, PhD Candidate, American Studies, Yale University

Sarah Khan, Assistant Professor of Political Science, Yale University

---

THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 24 , 2020 | 4:30 PM (EDT)

Register in advance for this webinar:

https://yale.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN\_9hylfT\_eQyiSMY8oyoY54A